DETAILED ACTION

Summary of changes in this action

1. The New Matter rejection has been overcome responsive to the amendment.
2. The indefiniteness rejection has been overcome.
3. Indicated allowable subject matter hereby removed responsive to newly cited art.

Claim Objections

Claims 30-31 are objected to as being redundant to claims 1 and 8. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-3, 6-15, 18-20 and 29-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Spanoche (USPN 6,538,491). Spanoche discloses, in Fig. 10, a circuit comprising: “a first stage (between the phantom lines)...having an output switch (610) and an amplifier (400)”; “a second stage (right of second phantom line)...having an input switch (621) ; “a bootstrap module (623) ; and “a common node (connecting R1, T2 and 400), all connected and operating similarly as recited by Applicant.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4-5 and 32-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Spanoche (USPN 6,538,491) in view of Foss et al. (USPN 5,828,620). The above-discussed circuit to Spanoche discloses a circuit similar to that claimed, but does not disclose any details regarding the charge pump 623. The reference to Foss et al. discloses, in Fig. 3, a charge pump circuit having complementary transistors. Therefore, it would be more than reasonable to consider any of the transistors to be “complementary” since each is complementary to another transistor. The reference to Foss et al. discloses that the circuit has the advantage of eliminating drift. Therefore, it would have been obvious for one skilled in the art to use the specific charge pump circuit in Fig. 3 of Foss et al. for the broad charge pump of Spanoche to obtain the expected advantage of eliminating drift in the combination.
